

A special lecture review

Digital Libraries

I took a special lecture from a senior in the department of literature and information in Suseong-gu. He has been a journalist for many years and is lucky to be the director of the library. However, I thought you had a critical mind because you were a reporter for a long time and that you were able to run a lifelong education system for older people while being the director.

As a major in another department, I was ignorant of the librarian's work, but it was a valuable and good time to know about it in this special lecture. I hope there will be another special lecture like this.
